RECOVER CPR RESCUER CERTIFICATION COURSE

- One-Day Workshop for Vets -

In collaboration with:

TIERKLINIK NEANDERTAL
IHRE TIERKLINIK MIT 24H NOTDIENST

RECOVER CERTIFICATION IN CARDIOPULMONARY RESUSCITATION (CPR): BASIC (BLS) & ADVANCED LIFE SUPPORT (ALS)

How do we best treat animals in cardiopulmonary arrest? Evidence-based veterinary CPR guidelines published by the RECOVER Initiative in 2012 provide recommendations on how to perform CPR in dogs and cats (<https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/toc/14764431/22/s1>). To advance implementation of these guidelines in clinical practice the RECOVER initiative developed a CPR certification process approved by the American College of Veterinary Emergency and Critical Care (ACVECC) and endorsed by the Veterinary Emergency and Critical Care Society (VECCS).

This course is the only one of its kind that will first provide you with the principles, tools and practical opportunities to acquire competency in delivering high-quality CPR to dogs and cats (online and in-person RECOVER certification). It is split into two components:

Part 1: RECOVER BLS and ALS e-learning courses

To acquire foundation knowledge in CPR, course subscribers are first taking an on-demand online-certification course provided via the RECOVER initiative and included in the course fee for this CPR course. The online course contains a BLS and an ALS component and will require approximately 8.5 hours to complete, but course subscribers can take it at their own pace in the months and weeks leading up to the CPR workshop in November. The successful completion of this online course is a prerequisite for participation in the practical training sessions of the CPR workshop and the subsequent certification as BLS- and ALS Rescuer.

Part 2: RECOVER rescuer certification – BLS and ALS

During the CPR workshop, participants will proceed to the in-person certification workshop in BLS and ALS. They will perform several exercises on manikins to first learn the psychomotor skills essential for delivery of high quality BLS, followed by an assessment to ascertain everyone's competency. Second, we will form resuscitation teams and engage in a series of ALS scenarios presented in an immersive simulation environment. The performance of the teams and the learning objectives of each scenario will be discussed in interactive debriefing sessions before proceeding to the next, more complex scenario. At the conclusion of the practice scenarios, each team will be assessed in additional CPR scenarios to ascertain everyone's competency.

TEACHING CONCEPTS

1. Standardized course content and didactic approach ensure consistent learning success and acquisition of the necessary psychomotor skills by all course attendees.
2. Extensive hands-on wet labs guarantee the acquisition of key competences by all course participants.
3. Clinically relevant training scenarios facilitate understanding of the principle concepts behind successful CPR.
4. Detailed debriefings encourage course participants to critically review their performance of ALS measures as a team and allow the instructors to provide valuable feedback of how to optimize their CPR techniques.
5. The final CPR performance evaluation (i.e. the certification process per se) follows clearly defined rules and criteria, and has the purpose of objectively assessing knowledge and practical skills of course participants in delivering CPR but also serves as an additional learning opportunity.

TEACHING GOALS

1. Rapid recognition of cardiac arrest in dogs and cats.
2. Proper delivery of effective chest compressions during CPR in dogs and cats by applying recommended techniques.
3. Application of mouth-to-snout or positive pressure ventilation of the intubated patient in agreement with the RECOVER CPR guidelines.
4. Effective communication and cooperation within the rescuer team to improve CPR outcome for the emergency patient.
5. Selection of proper monitoring modalities in cardiac arrest patients.
6. Proper assessment and interpretation of the monitoring data.
7. Rapid cardiac rhythm diagnosing and selection of proper ALS measures to treat rhythm disturbances.
8. Correct selection and application of recommended emergency drugs and other interventions during CPR in small animals.

PROGRAM OF THE WORKSHOP

See program below.

CERTIFICATION AND POST WORKSHOP

1. Successful course participants will receive a certificate of completion after each e-learning sessions with CE credits listed and at the end upon successful completion of the workshop a BLS and ALS Rescuer certificate.
2. The receipt of the certificate as BLS and ALS Rescuer will be published on the RECOVER website.
3. Course participants will be invited by e-mail to open an account with the RECOVER INITIATIVE to receive additional updates and information in the future.
4. Participants will receive reminder e-mails every 2 years when re-certification is due.
5. A separate ATF- (CE credit) certificate will be handed out at the end the course covering the workshop hours.
